

Lighting suits each space

HIGHLANDS FROM C1

Dee's favourite fixtures are those Sydney twinned for the large formal dining room. Normally displayed as a single fixture, black satin boxes adorned with crystals hang side by side for a stunning contemporary look.

Sydney says the pairing is a nod to the traditional chandelier — but it also creates some beautiful sight lines both within and outside the home.

LIGHTING THE RIGHT LOOK

In the upstairs master bedroom, soft lighting created by a fixture of gossamer fabric and delicate glass beads casts a romantic spell over the king-sized bed that Dee says she spotted in Vancouver and “had to have.”

This custom two-storey infill home in the Highlands neighbourhood was constructed by Effect Home Builders.

A smaller dining area sits next to the kitchen, providing entertaining space.

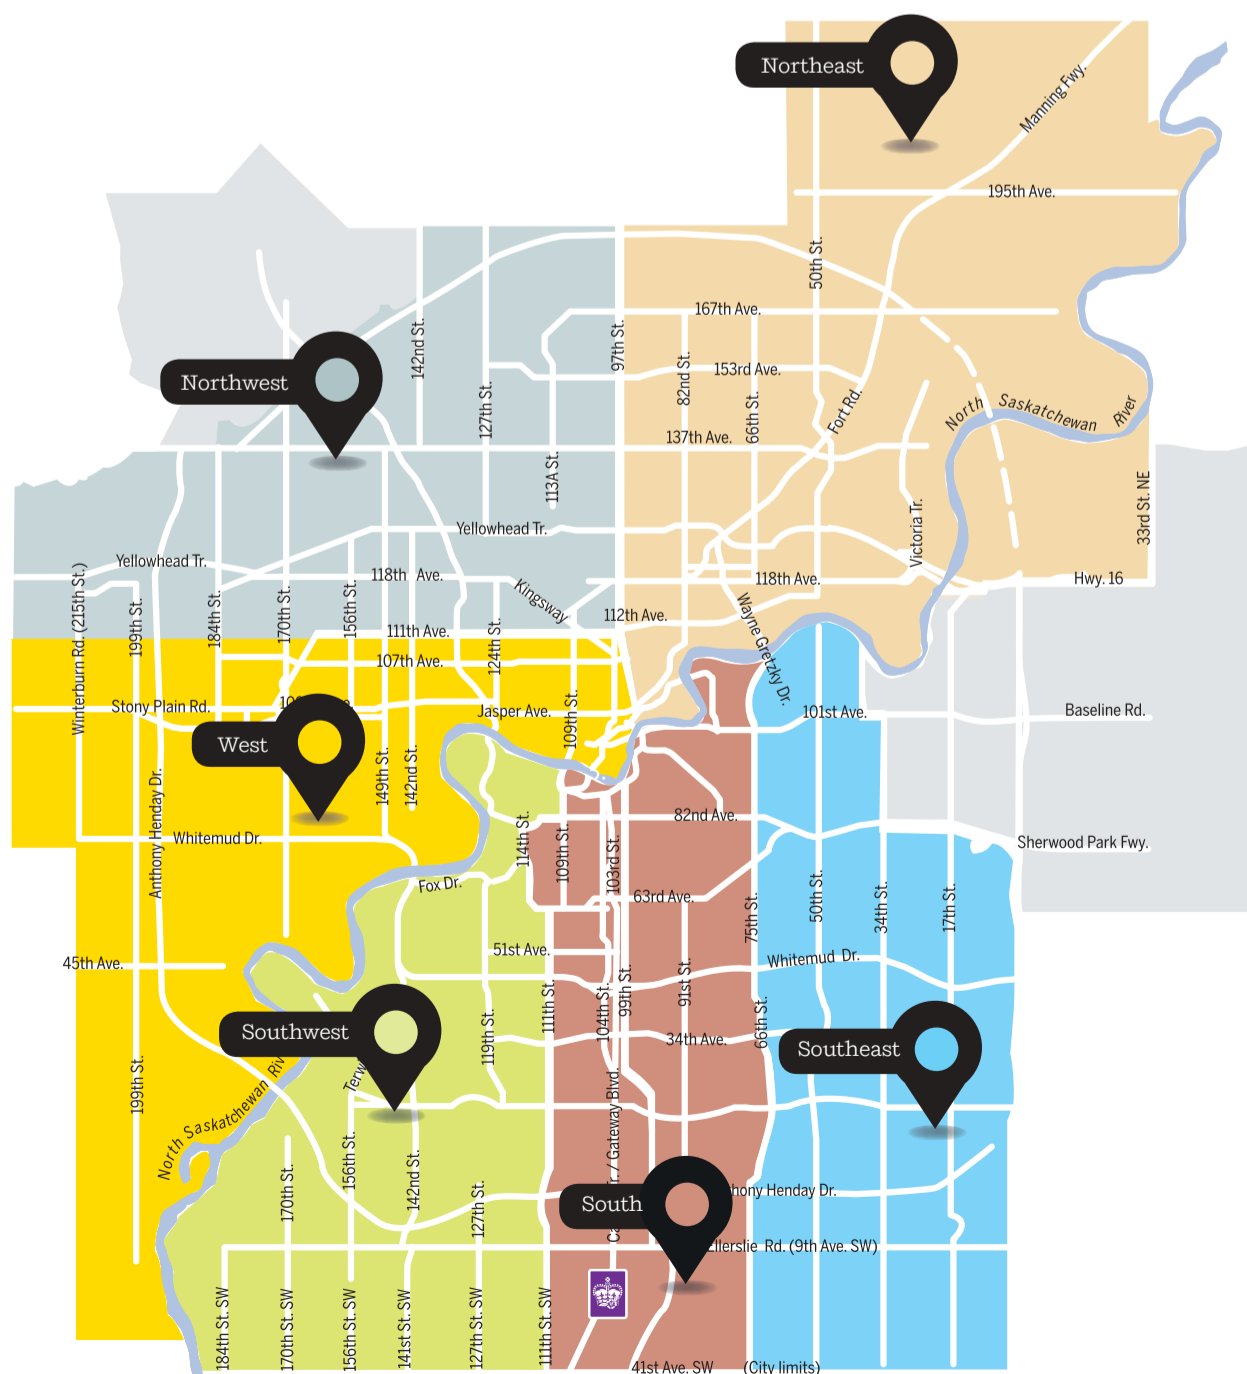

In the formal dining room, chandelier lighting is achieved with twin black satin boxes adorned with crystals.
